SKILLFUL TACTICIANS.

The columns of the Goebel Democratic newspapers were crowded with denunciations of the use of the State uniformed militia. But as soon as a single company was seduced to declare for Mr. Beckham it was called into service; and kept in service until a few days ago. It surrounded the jail and the courts sitting as courts of justice. The intensely fervid and patriotic indignation of the judges of the Court of Appeals at the presence of soldiers turned into the sweetness of the cooing dove, and the delicious fanning of a breeze which had blown over the flowers of Araby. The Beckham soldiers were perservers of the peace—heroes baring their exposed breasts to death in defense of order; the Taylor soldiers were marauders—the protectors of assassins, the enemies of law.

Governor Bradley was denounced for mustering in companies charged to be composed of Republicans and every foul epithet that the prurient and debased imagination of lovers of obscenity could coin was applied to him. Today these persons and organs are praising Mr. Beckham for mustering these companies out of the service and forming the State Guard of Democrats who are privily examined and found faithful to obedience of orders for the upholding of that party.

The English language has been exhausted in abuse of Governor Taylor and Mr. Finley for delinquent to report to the jailer of Franklin County and remaining in jail indefinitely; only guilt and cowardice could make them refuse to submit to the courts. But when Captain Longmire and Mr. McClure become confused in Maysville and attempt to find the Maysville company at places not frequented by its members; and warrants are sworn out and issued by a court of proper jurisdiction and they skip to Ohio; they are applauded and the claim they make—that the warrant was through spite, was issued on the affidavit of a Republican, issued by a Republican magistrate and would be tried before a Republican magistrate—held to be sufficient.

These are mere specimens of the arrogant and miserable hypocrisy which has marked the conduct of the most influential organs of the Goebel Democracy.

For ourselves we have no alarm that civil liberty will be lost through the State Guard and we prefer organized troops to the gang of bullies and outlaws who have made Frankfort notorious for the past five years. Our State Guard is the uniformed constabulary of the State; we prefer it to special police selected by political schemers and bad qualities. We regret the introduction of politics into the State Guard; it is a blunder if not a crime; it brings incompetent and unscrupulous officers to the front. Mr. Beckham is making a mistake in mustering these companies out of the guard; he is weakening himself. Whenever real war or revolution comes, the State Guard will not be decisive any more than it was in 1861.

It may be true that there was some spite in the issue of the warrants against Captain Longmire and his escort, Sergeant McClure, and it was perhaps a wise flank move of those accomplished soldiers to cross over into Ohio; a timely and skilful retreat is often high evidence of military skill. And when the facts are made known it will most probably turn out that these soldiers have not been guilty of any act which would surprise their friends.—Lexington Herald.

Serving Humanity.

We live in a world of poignant suffering and crying need. Each heart knows its own bitterness and every tongue were it bidden to speak, would a sad tale unfold. The innocent cry of the child is for more, more, more, and the soul even of him who has all that the world can give hungers and thirsts for what the world cannot give nor take away. The world's suffering is not all physical and its need is not all material. Under the heaviest burden of this life there is the undying yearning of the soul's deep needs. There is a commendable pride in the fact of our church. But if we would best serve humanity and insure the future of our church, we must equip it for the great work of satisfying the hungry soul and filling the sad heart with gladness. No matter what special lines of missionary effort are adopted, the church will never outgrow its God-given mission to minister to all of the vital needs of men and to spread abroad in the world its comfort, its solace and its inspiration.—Universalist Leader.

The Unknown Future.

When things get beyond your control, when you face an unknown future and when trying conditions confront you, remember that it is His to bring light out of darkness, joy out of sorrow and hope out of despair. Be patient and acquiescent. Let the Ruler of the universe and the Lord of the individual manage affairs in His own way and at His own time. Neither grow weary nor become too anticipative. Roll upon a covenant keeping God your cares, taking His dispensations as they come and multiplying sorrow neither by distrust nor by foreboding. God unravels the future day by day, hour by hour and moment by moment, accompanying the distribution with His supporting and sanctifying grace.—Presbyterian.

No business can possibly be successful that is not advertised.

This is a sweeping statement, but it is true. There are some merchants in this community whose experience apparently contradicts the statement.

The contradiction, however, is only apparent. If they have attained any degree of success they have advertised. They have let people know what they had to sell, what they were here for and what they proposed to do. Just in proportion to the thoroughness with which they have done this and met the conditions of their competitors they have succeeded.

If they have used the newspapers they have worked with the best tools so far as getting publicity is concerned. If they have worked without the newspapers they have been handicapped and have not attained the highest possible measure of success.

A fertile seed planted in fertile ground, carefully watered, will thrive and bear fruit. A properly organized business, in any inhabited place, well advertised will succeed. The law of growth is as certain and inexorable in one case as the other.

The matron of a well known Masonic Home mentions one inmate, seventy years of age, who has been in the infirmary for three years, a great sufferer from indigestion, and has been taking Ripans Tablets about a year and a half and finds them so beneficial that he is never without them. He is willing that his name should be used in a testimonial, as it might be of use in persuading some other person to try them. A second old gentleman, in the same institution, eighty-four years of age, has had liver trouble for many years and finds that R-I-P-A-N-S help him very much. They also have two nurses there, one thirty years of age, the other forty-two; both suffer from indigestion, causing headaches, depression of spirits and nervousness. They take the Tablets and find them so useful that they always have a package in their pockets. The matron also states, that she is forty-five years of age and at times suffers with indigestion, causing pain and paroxysms of belching, and finds that the Tablets are very good indeed and is perfectly willing to have her name used in a testimonial.

WANTED—A case of bad health that R-I-P-A-N-S will not benefit. They banish pain and produce good relief. Note the word R-I-P-A-N-S on the package and accept no substitute. R-I-P-A-N-S, 10 for 5 cents. Write for 48 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials mailed to any address for 4 cents. Forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 19 Spruce St., New York.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

TO WASH BRUSHES AND COMBS

To wash hair brushes and combs, dissolve a tablespoonful of

in boiling water; when it is nearly cold, dab the bristles up and down without allowing the backs of the brushes to become wet; when the brushes are clean, dip them in plain cold water and dry them either by the fire or in the open air. Soap turns the ivory back combs or brushes yellow, but Gold Dust does not injure them.
